POULTRY FARMING.

The enormous prices offered for poultry of first-class quality is not on the decline, as it is a common occurrence says the Stock-keeper, for £60 or £70 to be paid for good specimens. This figure was considerably exceeded on the first day of the United Show, when a sum of £100 was offered by a well-known fancier in the Buxton district for Messrs. Garner & Fordham's young blue chequer hen under the condition they would guarantee her a breeder. —Evening News, 27th November, 1899.

THE REASON WHY.

Many people ask, WHY ARE THESE PLOTS AT SUCH A LOW PRICE?

The reason is easily explained. When Mr. Dougal bought this estate, some years ago, all landed property was at its lowest ebb and he bought it at a GREAT BARGAIN even then. Since that date land has risen in value by leaps and bounds, going up hundreds per cent.

Mr. Dougal is now giving land buyers the benefit of his remarkably cheap purchase and everybody should embrace this opportunity by buying at once.

DEAR SIR,

Thanks for plan of Aperfield Court Estate, which I have placed in a prominent position in Saloon Bar.

Having seen the Estate I can honestly speak as to its position being healthy and in a very picture-que part of the County of Kent, and in my opinion the Lots are exceedingly cheap and will eventually pay a large percentage on outlay.

The advantages now held out are the acquirement of BUILDING PLOTS, practically without restriction in a rural district close to London, the character of which cannot be materially altered for many years to come. GOOD ROADS are made, water is laid along main road, and free title deeds. January 31st, 1900.

DEAR SIR,—Having had my attention called to the Estate at Biggin Hill, near Westerham, Kent, I, accompanied by a few friends, visited the property last month, and I was most agreeably surprised to find such a charming locality so near to town. I consider it to be admirably adapted for Villa or Cottage Residences. The Estate appears to have been well laid out, and the roads judiciously formed to suit the contours of the land. I am of opinion that it will become a valuable property, and the Plots ought to find ready purchasers at the very low prices placed upon them.

DEAR SIR,

I received the Plans of your Estate, and I think it an excellent thing for anyone to speculate on building Cottages at Cudham. I never saw houses more needed than at that place; I have had a Plan hung in my house for several weeks and have caused others to be hung in Post Office and public-houses round here. I shall be pleased to give any information I can concerning the Plans, as I know your offers are most generous and a thorough benefit to the working man. DEAR SIR,—I have much pleasure in conveying to you my entire satisfaction with the eight plots I purchased from you last Spring.

Having had a very pretty Bungalow Residence built, which, with the Orchard, has been much admired.

I can honestly say that Biggin Hill is one of the most healthy places one can find.

I am hoping to build on my plot this Summer.

BUNGALOW ON ESTATE.

THE development of the land during the past few years has been most remarkable. It has a frontage along the main road of practically two miles, and now, in addition to the three ancient highways which intersect it, new roads have been made in all directions. Many of them have been planted with ornamental trees, and dotted about at frequent intervals are charming little Bungalows and dainty Villas and Cottage Residences, most of which are the permanent homes of the occupiers, but some of which are used for holiday purposes during the Summer months. And it would, indeed, be difficult to find a more delightful retreat than is here provided.

IMPORTANT TO FRUIT GROWERS, MARKET GARDENERS, AND OTHERS.

SPECIAL attention is called to the well-sheltered but sunny valley of the and which is so well suited for Glass Houses.

DEAR SIR,—I am writing to tell you that the cottage, which I informed you I intended building at Biggin Hill, is nearly completed, and I hope to be in it next month. To say I am pleased with the plots would not convey half what I feel—I am delighted.

My numerous friends who have been down go into raptures, while cyclists and others passing by are heard to exclaim some such words as, "What a jolly place for a house."

I assure you I feel quite proud of being the owner. I hope that when I am down there next month you will look in and see the place.

DEAR SIR,

Having purchased some plots at Aperfield Court Estate, which I consider to be charmingly situated in a very pretty country, I am so satisfied with them, being so near London and good soil. I am sure it would grow almost anything, and the price is so reasonable for such healthy and pretty scenery around, and I should think in a very short time it would improve very much, and I shall recommend it to all my friends.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favour of yesterday enclosing the two contracts relating to plots 1,212 and 1,213 and 1,214 respectively. I am truly delighted with the three plots I have chosen, which are beautifully situated on the crest of the hill, commanding a view of surpassing loveliness. I am looking forward to erecting a nice little bungalow on the property, and with a tennis lawn, &c., it will be a truly ideal resort for the Summer months. The surrounding country is charming.

I am, dear Sir,

Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR COCKLE.

F. H. DOUGAL, Esq.

P.S.—I will do my best to influence my friends to invest in like way.

BROMLEY, KENT.

2nd November, 1900.

DEAR SIR,—A few months ago I purchased six plots I knew on your Aperfield Court Estate. I am exceedingly glad I did so, as I feel sure there is no more beautiful nor more healthy spot to be found in all Kent.

I think your price for the same was most reasonable, and altogether I am delighted with my purchase.

F. H. DOUGAL, Esq.

DEAR SIR,—About five weeks ago I went down to Cudham to have a look at the Freehold Plots of Land I bought of you (six of them), and I must say I was agreeably surprised at them being so well suited for my purpose. The soil is so good, and the country so beautiful, that I told your Agent, Mr. TERRY, that I am well satisfied with my purchase, and I consider that at present prices the land is really cheap and good value for money, and sure to go up in price in a year or two. Of course, you know I intend to go in for fruit growing and fancy poultry rearing, and I intend building a house in two or three years' time, as soon as trees and hedges I am planting have grown a reasonable size, and then I shall live down there. I consider every working man ought to have his own Freehold for his old days to enjoy.

Dear Sir,—You may make use of this letter if you think it would be of any value to you in helping you to sell more land, and will do my best to let everyone know about it, and I hope to see you down at Westerham Road some time next Summer to have a good long chat with you about matter. With best wishes from

Yours truly,
H. FESENFIELD.

Map of Proposed Route of Orpington and Tatsfield Light Railway.

Bromley & District Times

THIS week we are enabled, through the instrumentality of the engineers, to present to our readers a map of the proposed light railway from Orpington to Tatsfield, via Downe and Cudham, which shows concisely and accurately the course which it is intended to take. Starting in Orpington Parish, adjoining the South Eastern and Chatham Railway Station, it proceeds in a southerly direction, almost immediately crossing the boundary into Farnborough Parish, where it runs behind St. Joseph's Orphanage, crosses the foot of Farnborough Hill, and keeps slightly to the west of Green Street Green, where the first station will be located, being about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Orpington. From this station the general direction of the line is south-westerly, proceeding up the valley, and generally following the course of the road from Green Street Green to Cudham, alternately crossing and re-crossing from the bordering Parishes of Downe and Cudham. At about  $3\frac{3}{4}$  miles from Orpington, the next station will be situated in the valley, between the villages of Downe and Cudham, and about a mile distant from each village. From this point the direction of the line again becomes southerly, passing Single Street; but at about  $4\frac{3}{4}$  miles it takes a turn to the west, soon after passing Berry's Green, and then strikes south-west, where it crosses the main Bromley-Westerham Road, where a station will be placed  $5\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Orpington, and about midway between Aperfield Court and the "Fox and Hounds Inn," to serve the rapidly-developing districts of Biggin Hill and Westerham Hill. From the fourth mile post, until about  $6\frac{1}{2}$  miles, the line will run exclusively through the Parish of Cudham; at this point it enters the extreme northern portion of Westerham Parish, and just previous to the seventh mile post the boundary between Kent and Surrey is crossed, and the line comes to an end about half-a-mile further, nearly joining the Village of Tatsfield.

November 3rd, 1900.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your enquiry as to whether I am satisfied with the plots I have purchased, I can honestly say I am more than satisfied, as the price you charged was remarkably reasonable, considering the short distance from London; and as for the scenery, it is delightfully picturesque, in fact, it would be a difficult matter to find a more beautiful spot in Kent.

There must be thousands of persons in London who, if they only knew of it, would be glad to purchase one or more plots in such a charming locality. All the friends that I have mentioned the matter to have become purchasers.

SALE OF PLOTS.

IN view of the important opportunity which is offered to investors of becoming freeholders, there is no doubt that the success which attended a sale on Easter Monday will be repeated, and even emphasised. As will have been gathered from our columns only last week, the Parish Councils concerned are moving with a view to accelerating the advent of the light railway, which is to traverse the delightful tract of country between Orpington and Tatsfield, via Farnborough, Downe, and Cudham. The order for the carrying out of the work has already been drawn up by the Light Railway Commissioners, and when it has been carried into effect—as it no doubt will be, before very long—the value of this Estate will be enormously increased. But even without this most desirable accommodation, the development of the land during the past few years has been most remarkable. It has a frontage along the main road of practically two miles, and now, in addition to the three ancient highways which intersect it, new roads have been constructed in all directions. Many of them have been planted with ornamental trees, and dotted about at frequent intervals are charming little bungalows and dainty villas and cottage residences, most of which are the permanent homes of the occupiers, but some of which are used for holiday purposes during the Summer months. And it would, indeed, be difficult to find a more delightful retreat than is here provided. Most residents in West Kent will be familiar with the picturesque nature of the country along the road to Westerham Hill. Away to the south, west, and east panoramic views can be obtained of the fertile valley which lies between the high road and the splendidly-wooded hills of Surrey and Kent. Right at one extreme end of the valley the crystal dome of the great glass palace at Sydenham is shimmering in the sunlight; coming away to the south the eye meets the tree-crowned range of hills, behind which lies the pretty little village of Warlingham; still further south the peaceful hamlet of Tatsfield is seen nestling amongst the dark green foliage of the gently-declining slopes; and then winding away round to the south-east stretch large expanses of undulating meadow and pasture land; the view broken only here and there by a red-tiled farm cottage, or a herd of cattle browsing lazily on the herbage, the fresh green shades of which are so restful to the eye.

The land has been divided into plots of an average depth of 200 ft., and an average frontage of 20 ft.; and they vary in price from £10 per plot upwards. Free conveyances are given, and the payments can be spread over a period of nine years if so desired. Thus by payment of £1 deposit, and 18 half-yearly instalments of 10s. each afterwards, those in even the humblest walks of life may become their own landlords.

Bromley District Times, May 29, 1902.

THE APERFIELD ESTATE, BIGGIN HILL.

Many of us are familiar with the well-advertised "Ten Pound Plots," but possibly not so many have visited the scene of operations, or have any idea of the awakening which is taking place in the "hinterland" of Bromley, which was, until recent years, one of the most remote and inaccessible parts of the County.

We, of course, refer to the Aperfield Court Building Estate, of which Mr. F. H. Dougal is the owner, who has done, and is still doing, so much to bring prosperity and happiness to the erstwhile out-of-the-world hills and valleys of Cudham.

With this issue of our paper we present our readers with a drawn sketch plan of the above Building Estate, which shows, at a glance, the immense strides which have been made within the last few years in the development of this charming and healthy district.

GREENHOUSES ON ESTATE.

We must not lose sight of the fact that, within the space of a very few years, a large population will, without doubt, find a home on the breezy heights and in the sunny valleys of our Kentish Hills. Having regard to the above facts, we need, therefore, make no apology for introducing the subject, perhaps already familiar to a large number of purchasers and their circle of acquaintances, and to point out to others the obvious advantages of investing, at the present time, when the prices are as low as ever they can be, and thus making provision for the future, and either re-selling at a suitable time or entering into possession themselves, and to end their days in peace and contentment.

For the information of those readers who may not have a personal knowledge of the district, we may say that the Estate is situated on the main road from Bromley to Westerham, to which it has a frontage of about three miles. The Estate is reached either by rail from London (Victoria, Charing Cross, Cannon Street, St. Paul's, etc., via S.E. & C.R.) to Hayes Station and thence by road, or to Bromley South, from whence a charming ride takes the visitor through charming lanes and over the breezy commons of Hayes and Keston. Frequent omnibuses run every day to Keston, from which place it is only a matter of a pleasant walk through a lovely undulating, well-wooded country to the northern boundary of the Estate. But, better than this, the owner of the Estate will only be too pleased to have intending purchasers met by one of the Estate Motor Cars, or other conveyance, at either Bromley (North or South) or Hayes Stations, by means of which the Estate is soon reached. We need hardly say that either Mr. Dougal or his Manager, Mr. Terry (who resides on the Estate), will be only too pleased to show visitors round the Estate at any time.

The interesting old market town of Westerham, near which the famous General Wolfe, of Canadian fame, was born, is only three miles from the southern border of the Estate.

We some months ago published in our paper a Route Map of the Orpington and Tatsfield Light Railway, which will intersect the southern portion of the property. The Scheme has now passed the Commissioners for Light Railways, and also the Board of Trade, and, doubtless, the work will be put in hand shortly. A station will be placed on the Estate. The line will be operated either by steam or by electric power, and will prove a great boon to the districts it traverses, and will do its share in the solving of the problem of overcrowding present in our towns and cities. The Estate has already erected on it quite a number of houses, and the Post and Telegraph Office is available at Biggin Hill, adjacent to the Estate Office.

At the present time there is no Church nearer than Cudham (the Parish Church), which is distant some three miles from Biggin Hill, but steps are now being taken to remedy this. A few weeks ago an influential meeting was held to consider the question of erecting a Church for this growing district, and, thanks to the generosity of some of the principal residents, the Scheme is in a fair way to being carried out in the near future.

"HILL CREST COTTAGE"—ON ESTATE.

The proposed site on the Aperfield Court Estate is indicated on our Plan, and should, we think, prove to be a very convenient and appropriate one.

The character of the land, as has been previously remarked, very diversified, the soil being chiefly gravel and chalk, with a loamy top soil, which has proved very productive when cultivated, especially in the case of fruit farming and kindred operations. It is also well suited for poultry farming. The highest part is 650 feet above sea level, while the mean elevation is about 600 feet. Charming views are obtainable over the hills and valleys of West Kent and East Surrey, while the thickly-wooded southern range of the North Downs can be discerned to the southward.

So much for the general surroundings. Now we will return to the Estate itself, and from the very lucid Plans and Illustrated Particulars issued by Mr. Dougal we can glean much useful information. From the sketch plan issued with this week's District Times it will be seen that the northern portion of the Estate has been for the most part disposed of, but there are a few plots still for sale. The frontage to the main road has naturally been greatly in demand, and very few of these plots are still in the market.

The southern and south-western portions have only been recently developed, and there is still a very good selection of eligible sites for an intending purchaser to select from. A number of the famous "£10 Plots" are still on hand, and should tempt many, whose capital is limited, to invest with the certainty of, later on, being able to resell at a profit.

The Estate is laid out in suitable plots, and is intersected with well-made roads (many of which are planted with trees), and the frontages, generally, are 20 feet each, with depths varying from 150 to 300 feet. The prices, of course, vary both with the size and situation of the plot. On the main road they run from £35 to £50, while in the "Sutherland Avenue," a road running parallel with the main road for some distance, they can be obtained from £25 to £30 apiece, with large irregular plots at £30 to £80, and so on. In "The Grove," also running parallel with the main London Road, but further back, prices range from £10 a plot (there are quite a number of these) to £12 and upwards. The whole of the frontage to "Lebanon Gardens" on this portion of the Estate, has been sold, and a number of the purchasers are in residence on the land. In "Edward Road" and another Proposed Road (both of which are quite adjacent to the intended Railway Station) there are some very nice plots at £30 each. There are also a number of main road plots still unsold in this immediate neighbourhood, price £50 each. These, especially, should be worth having, in view of future developments. The south-eastern portion consists of some 1,550 plots, a large number of which have been sold; there still remain a good number having frontages to "Grand View Avenue," "Highfield Rd.," "Rosehill Rd.," etc., many of which will, doubtless, soon command purchasers at satisfactory prices; also a few left in the "Sunningvale Avenue," which runs through the middle of the Estate, the greater portion of which frontage has been already dealt with. We may mention that many of the plots in this section have frontages to parish roads, in which are laid water mains, and to which no liability can attach for maintenance of roads, etc. A further 535 plots have been laid out in the extreme south-west of the Estate, comprising the extensions of "Beech Rd.," "King's Rd.," "Melody Rd.," and "Swievelands Hill," etc. The plots on this section are situated in a pretty valley, and about 200 of them are for sale for the modest sum of £10, "as advertised."

We should like to point out that the Conditions of Sale are very liberal, viz., possession is given on payment of 10 per cent. deposit and signing contract, the remainder being payable in 18 half-yearly instalments, with interest at 5 per cent. on balance unpaid; but the purchase-money can be paid off at any time.

The plots are constantly increasing in value, all those who again dispose of their investment doing so at a considerable profit.

Motor Car Service is now running from Bromley to the Estate three times daily, at 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 6 p.m. There are Superior Cyclist Rests on Estate, where intending purchasers can get refreshments or put up for the night or any period.

Any of our readers who would like fuller particulars than we can give in the limited scope of a short article, are advised to apply direct to the Owner, Mr. F. H. DOUGAL, the Estate Offices, Biggin Hill, Cudham, Kent; 453, Strand, London, W.C.; and 148, Merton Road, Wandsworth.

HOUSE IN COURSE OF ERECTION—ON ESTATE.

this neighbourhood who have not made its acquaintance—will be familiar with the picturesque nature of the country thereabouts. Away to the south, west and east, panoramic views can be obtained of the fertile valley which lies between the high road and the splendidly-wooded hills of Surrey and Kent. Right at one extreme end of the valley the crystal dome of the great glass palace at Sydenham is shimmering in the sunlight; coming away to the south the eye meets the tree-crowned range of hills behind which lies the pretty little village of Warlingham; still further south the peaceful hamlet of Tatsfield is seen nestling amongst the dark green foliage of the gently-declining slopes; and then winding around to the south-east stretch large expanses of undulating meadow and pasture land, and the view broken only here and there by a red-tiled farm cottage, or a herd of cattle browsing lazily on the herbage, the fresh green shades of which are so restful to the eye. It is indeed a place in which to ruralise.

Most of the land on which we are gazing forms the Aperfield Court and Biggin Hill Estates, the former of which was for many years in the family of the late Mr. Christy, of Westerham Hill, and it is this which is now being so rapidly developed for business purposes. If we extend our gaze a little more in detail we shall see quite a number of new roads, the chalk surface of which shows up very white and clear against the bright green carpet of the surrounding grass land, winding their way in and about the Estate—long avenues, most of them already bordered with healthy looking and rapidly-growing ornamental trees, from which numbers of intersecting streets branch off at right angles. Carrying our visit of inspection still more into detail, we shall notice that the whole of the land has been pegged out into plots, a very large number of which have already been enclosed by boundary fences, indicating that they have been disposed of—while nestling cosily under the shade of the overhanging foliage of the elms which border the main road may be seen quite a number of pretty little new houses springing into existence. The main idea upon which the Estate has been cut up is that of giving plots of 20 ft. frontage and 200 ft. depth each, and for the most part this has been carried out. They vary in value, according to the position and the nature of the land, but though they are very rapidly diminishing yet the proprietor still has a number of £10 plots left. The property is intersected by three ancient highways, and when the Estate has been fully developed a new and quick route will have been opened up to the adjoining village of Tatsfield. Much of the land has been planted with fruit trees, and these, together with the potatoes and other vegetables with which many of the sold plots are sown, testify to the productive nature of the soil. The subsoil is chalk, and is thus excellent for building purposes.

The conditions under which the plots are sold are exceedingly simple. Conveyances are granted free, except for the stamp duty, and the purchaser obtains possession immediately on payment of the deposit; and he may either complete at once or pay the balance by 18 half-yearly instalments. The deposit required amounts to only 10 per cent. of the purchase-money. It will thus be seen that the task of becoming a freeholder is an exceedingly easy one. That the value of the Estate is being realised is proved by the increasing rapidity with which the plots are going off.

It is important to mention that there is now a telegraph office right in the middle of the property, and that the Kent Company's water mains traverse the whole length of main road, also Sunningvale Avenue, Melrose Road, Norheads Lane, and part of Hill Crest Road.

A FREEHOLDER for £10.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS AT CUDHAM.

The possibility of becoming the freeholder of a plot of building land, large enough on which to erect a substantial villa, with a garden about 200 feet in length, for the sum of £10, without incurring any legal costs whatever, seems almost incredible in these days. But nevertheless it is a fact, and that, too, in one of the most charming and salubrious districts of this part of West Kent. Those who know the road to Westerham Hill—and there must be few residents in
